KEY THEMES FROM ENGAGEMENT

Affordability

Increasing unaffordability of housing for Members both on and off Nation Land was highlighted as a major concern throughout the survey and interviews.

Transparency

The survey highlights that while people generally appear to be aware of the housing waitlist it is felt that prioritization of Members on the waitlist are done in order of the date an application is received and not prioritized by need.

Cultural Support

Survey results suggest a desire for cultural and language supports to be integrated throughout a model for supportive housing.

Flexibility

Survey and interview responses suggest a need to 'decolonize' the process for obtaining stable housing, suggesting that supports are difficult to obtain for children that live with non-Members.

Wraparound Services

While many survey respondents suggested that they already have access to the supports they require to maintain the housing they need, others suggest wraparound support services are desired. Key services include mental health supports, addiction recovery treatment, cultural and language programs, recreational services, life skills training, and social gathering spaces.

Safety

Access to a safe and secure home was a very important theme throughout the survey and interviews with the need for long-term housing for victims of domestic violence being a common concern.

Education and Awareness

Survey and interview responses largely suggest that there is a need for increased education and awareness around the housing supports available to them.

Intergenerational Living

Many survey respondents suggest the need to think about how housing can be culturally appropriate and conscious of the importance of intergenerational living and shared learning for shíshálh.

Equity

The survey suggests a perception of unequal treatment for all Members (on Nation Land Members have easier access to housing). Interviews also shared the theme of the importance of equity, with interviewees noting that housing is mostly obtained through 'word of mouth' rather than through the Nation. This method of obtaining housing could put vulnerable Members at a disadvantage if it is about 'who you know' rather than who is most in need.

Inclusion

A distinct group of Members was not identified as a key 'priority group' through this engagement process. Rather, results suggest supportive housing should consider an inclusive approach to housing that aims to provide everyone access to safe and stable housing.

Long-Term Solutions

Engagement results highlighted the importance of considering long-term solutions rather than a traditional 'transitional housing' approach. Interviews in particular identified that the traditional method of supportive housing is often inflexible and unforgiving, with the often short timeframes and strict regulatory processes making it difficult for vulnerable people to maintain a sense of stability and security.

Building Capacity

Engagement results highlight a shared desire between the Nation and Members to not only provide supportive housing programming but also to set Members up to help and support each other as a community.

Supportive Housing Needs

Survey results suggest there was no one type of housing that is rated much higher in urgency than others. Assisted Living for Elders (with 24/7 support) was rated slightly higher than others at 47.7%, however, four other types of housing were also rated between 46.6% and 42.1% in importance. This suggests that supportive housing should take a more comprehensive approach, integrating supports to meet the needs of a variety of different people.

Compassion

Engagement results suggest the need for compassion and understanding when creating about supportive housing policy rather than creating strict regulatory processes.

KEY THEMES RELATED TO FAMILIES

Specific Needs & Life Skills Development

Survey results indicate that housing for families is currently lacking especially for those with any special needs. Themes also suggest it is important to consider the needs of young families just starting out and single parents in need of support. The survey and interviews indicate a need for support with life skills development like cleaning and parenting.

Non-Conventional Families

22% of shíshálh members that have dependents indicated that one or more were not considered relatives by blood, marriage, or adoption. Results also pointed out that some shíshálh children live with non-members that are not supported under the current housing application. shíshálh could consider a more non-traditional approach to how families are defined and perhaps revisit the criteria for providing housing to ensure member children living with non-members are supported, as well as ways to support members that are taking in non-relatives in need of housing.

Affordability and lack of housing supply

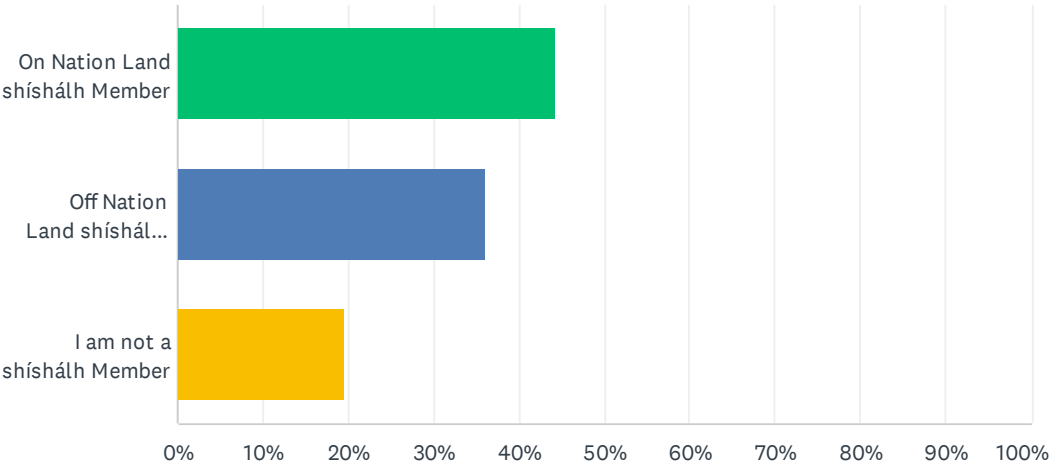

While not specifically related to supportive housing, perhaps the biggest themes in the survey and interview results was overall unaffordability of housing and lack of housing supply. Results suggest that there are more affordable options needed that are appropriate for families.

Intergenerational living

This was not a theme that was directly mentioned outside of the workshop but many respondents in the survey (and some in interviews) did mention that overcrowding is a key issue for shíshálh. Some alluded to the connection that providing enough housing for Elders (i.e., housing Elders appropriately if they are looking to downsize), could help to free up some of the larger homes for families that require more space.

(Note: Some of the options provided have a specific definition. The table below shows how these housing situations are typically defined).

Subsidized Housing: Housing for which the Provincial Government provides financial support or rent assistance. Supportive Housing:

Subsidized housing with on-site supports that help people maintain stable housing. This is a flexible strategy that's adaptable to people's needs and abilities. Examples of supports may include life skills training, meals, cleaning assistance and connections to off-site services (such as primary health care, mental health, or substance use services, etc.). Transitional Housing: Housing for residents for a period of 30 days to three years. It aims to transition people to long-term, permanent housing. Please choose one of the following options:

4	The Nation already has a housing program which is called the Housing Department. Which the three categories are: Mortgage, CMHC with subsidy, existing. The housing program works. Every member may need assistance just that not every member asks the Nation for help. There for someone that needs "emergency" housing should not pass a nation member that has been waiting for housing for 15 years. There is a process in place.	2/14/2022 12:26 PM

shíshálh Nation Supportive Housing Planning Project

Interview Guide

Begin with Introductions (informal meet/greet) of Interviewer and Interviewee.

Name of Interviewee: _____

Age: _____

Interview Overview:

As a follow-up to the shíshálh Nation Supportive Housing Survey, we are conducting short, 15-minute interviews to provide direction for shíshálh *Supportive Housing*¹. The focus of these interviews is to gain a deeper understanding of the needs of shíshálh Nation Members that may need access to additional housing support, and brainstorm ideas of how to best accommodate these supports. It is important that we think about the needs of everyone as we move toward developing Supportive Housing for the Nation.

In this Interview, I would like to ask you questions relating to who you are, your current housing situation (or of those who you support), and how you envision future shíshálh Nation Supportive Housing that will support the needs of you and your household (or the populations you work with).

All information collected will be made anonymous and will be used for the sole purpose of informing future Supportive Housing. (may want to explain project steps here too). Please know that you are welcome to pass on any questions that you do not feel comfortable answering.

As a token of our appreciation for completing an interview, participants can be entered into a prize draw for a chance to win a $500 cash prize. If you wish to be entered in the draw, I will collect your contact information at the end of this interview. Your contact information will remain completely confidential and will not be shared or associated with your interview answers.

Before we begin, do you have any questions?

¹ “Supportive Housing” means Subsidized housing with on-site supports that help people maintain stable housing. This is a flexible strategy that’s adaptable to people’s needs and abilities. Examples of supports may include life skills training, meals, cleaning assistance and connections to off-site services (such as primary health care, mental health, or substance use services, etc.).

Note: Alternative questions targeted to interviewees who are representing (i.e. service providers) vulnerable populations are represented in green.*

Introductory Questions:

(For Interviewees Representing Themselves)

1a. Tell me a little about yourself. (build off of this)

(For Interviewees who are Support Workers)

1b. Tell me a little about yourself, what you do for work.

Current State Questions:

(For Interviewees Representing Themselves)

I would like to ask you about your experience with housing to give us a better understanding of the current state of shishálh Nation housing in the first set of questions.

2a. Tell me a little bit about where you live and your current housing situation.

Follow-up Questions:

- a. Do you live on or off Nation Lands?
- b. How many people live in your current household and what is their relation to you?
 - i. Do you have any dependents?
- c. How would you describe your current living situation? (Do you rent, own, live in subsidized housing, etc...).
 - i. How would you describe the permanency or stability of your living situation?
 - ii. Do you feel safe in your current living situation?
 - iii. What might you need in order to make your living situation more supportive and stable, safe?

- d. Do you feel that the housing needs of you and your household are being met?
 - i. If not, do you have any specific ideas about what you would need in order for your housing needs to be met? (i.e. specific type of housing, financial support, housing in specific location, sense of safety etc...).
 - ii. Do you foresee your housing needs changing over the next 10 years? Why or why not?
- e. Are you currently searching for housing?
 - i. If yes, what are the most common ways you have searched for housing? (i.e. Kijiji, Facebook, word-of-mouth, shishálh Nation, etc...)
 - ii. Are you currently on a waiting list for housing through shishálh Nation or through another agency? If yes, how long have you been on the waitlist and what has your experience been like?

(For Interviewees who are Support Workers)

We want to make sure we have a complete understanding of the current housing landscape of shishálh Nation, that is inclusive of Members with varying housing needs.

2b. Tell me about the populations that you work with, in terms of where they live and their current housing situation.

Follow-up Questions:

- a. Do the populations you work with mainly live on or off Nation Lands?
- b. How would you describe the current living situation of the populations that you work with? (Do they rent, own, live in subsidized housing, etc...).
 - i. How would you describe the permanency or stability of their living situations?
 - ii. Do you think the majority of the populations you work with feel safe in their living situation?
 - iii. What might the populations you work with need in order to make their living situations more supportive and stable?
- c. Do you feel that the housing needs of the populations that you work with are being met?

- i. If not, do you have any specific ideas about what they would need in order for their housing needs to be met? (i.e. specific type of housing, financial support, housing in specific location, sense of safety etc...).
- d. What are the most common ways that the populations you work with search for (or find/secure) housing?
 - i. Are any of these search methods more successful than others?
 - ii. Are any of the populations you work with currently on a waiting list for housing through shíshálh Nation or elsewhere? If yes, how long have they been on the waitlist and what has their experience been like?

(For Interviewees Representing Themselves)

3a. What would you say are some of the biggest housing challenges you are facing right now? (i.e. unaffordability, instability, condition, lack of services, housing not supportive of household sizes, lack of available housing, etc...).

Follow-up Questions:

- a. Have you ever had experience with homelessness or feel that you have been at risk of homelessness²?

(For Interviewees who are Support Workers)

3b. What would you say are some of the biggest housing challenges that the people you work with are facing now? (i.e. unaffordability, instability, condition, lack of services, housing not supportive of household sizes, lack of available housing, etc...).

Follow-up Questions:

- a. Are there gaps or differences that you are aware of between these challenges on and off Nation Lands?
- b. Recent studies, such as the Sunshine Coast Housing Needs Report cited homelessness as a growing challenge for people across the Region. What do you see as some of the most common reasons for homelessness among shíshálh Nation Members?

² “Core Housing Need” means any household that fails to meet standards for adequacy (no need for major repairs), suitability (enough bedrooms for the number of people living in the home), and affordability (housing costs are more than 30% of household income). If they have met any of this criterion at some point, they could have been at risk of homelessness and may not have known it.

- c. “Core Housing Need” means any household that fails to meet standards for adequacy (no need for major repairs), suitability (enough bedrooms for the number of people living in the home), and affordability (housing costs are less than 30% of household income). What kind of support do you think Members that are homeless, at-risk of homelessness, or Members in ‘Core Housing Need’ are not receiving?

(For Interviewees Representing Themselves)

4a. In this project we are defining Supportive Housing as: Subsidized housing with on-site supports that help people maintain stable housing. This is a flexible strategy that’s adaptable to people’s needs and abilities.

Examples of supports may include life skills training, meals, cleaning assistance and connections to off-site services (such as primary health care, mental health, or substance use services, etc.).

What types of supports are most important to you and you’re household? (This can be when thinking of supportive housing or it can be housing supports more broadly. I.e., access to childcare, greenspace, cultural programs, proximity to amenities and services).

Follow-up Questions:

- a. Are there any barriers to accessing housing supports or services? If so, what are the most common barriers?
- b. What kinds of housing services or supports do you think are lacking that would be most beneficial to yourself and your community?

(For Interviewees who are Support Workers)

Future Solutions Questions:

(For ALL Interviewees. Note: Some of these questions may need to be adapted slightly for service providers)

I would like to ask you now to think more broadly about Member housing issues and share your thoughts for on the future of shíshálh Supportive Housing.

5. How can shíshálh Nation make sure that shíshálh Supportive Housing is truly inclusive to meet your needs and others in your situation?

Follow-up Questions:

- a. How can shíshálh Nation make sure that the policy adequately addresses Supportive housing for people like yourself?
- b. How can shíshálh Nation provide housing support to families effectively? What does this look like?
- c. How can shíshálh Nation provide housing that reflects the cultural practices and values of Members? What does this look like?

6. Are you aware of the housing programs and services shíshálh Nation currently offers to its community Members?

Follow-up Questions:

- a. What services and programs do you know of? (internal/external)
 - b. What suggestions might you have for shíshálh Nation to enhance awareness of the housing programs and services they offer?
7. What can shíshálh Nation do to better support you with your housing needs?
8. Is there anything else you can share that we should consider while working towards the shíshálh Supportive Housing?
9. What does a successful Supportive Housing for shíshálh Nation look like and how do we measure its success?
10. Would you like to be entered into the draw to win a $500 cash prize? If yes, please tell me your full name, email, and/or phone number.

Do you have any other questions for me at this time about the project, the interview or how your information will be used?

Thank you for agreeing to participate in this interview.

Subsidized Housing	Housing for which the provincial government provides financial support or rent assistance.
Supportive Housing	Subsidized housing with on-site supports that help people maintain stable housing. This is a flexible strategy that's adaptable to people's needs and abilities. Examples of supports may include life skills training, meals, cleaning assistance and connections to off-site services (such as primary health care, mental health, or substance use services, etc.).
Transitional Housing	Housing for residents a period of 30 days to three years. It aims to transition people to long-term, permanent housing.

How do you feel about this definition of Supportive Housing? Is there anything missing?

Life span approach

Housing for multigenerational housing.

Supportive housing= anyone that needs a start

Ensure that it is broad enough to cover elders to youths and the many varying needs of all members who need supports. Mental health, general health, life skills and transitional needs.

Culturally based- intergenerational family support I

Dealing w trauma

Reflect our cultural values and beliefs as a Nation...unique to us

Community/relational vs westernized, individualized approach

Leave no one behind

How do you feel about this definition of Supportive Housing? Is there anything missing?

Lift people up

Wholistic

Client/family centered

Need to keep the definition of supportive housing open - to include children aging out, struggling living with their mental health at the age of 18 not quite old enough to be on their own but need to start learning responsibilities

Teaching, helping and supporting each other

Educate our pple on how much its going to cost them to own a house

Skill development component

Collective responsibility for shishalh children

Need people to step up vs Nation do it for them.

How do you feel about this definition of Supportive Housing? Is there anything missing?

Wrap around supports and education

Open ended definition...comprehensive

Hand up not a hand out

Collective responsibility for our children important for our definition

Education - financial planning, budgeting, how to seek accommodation,

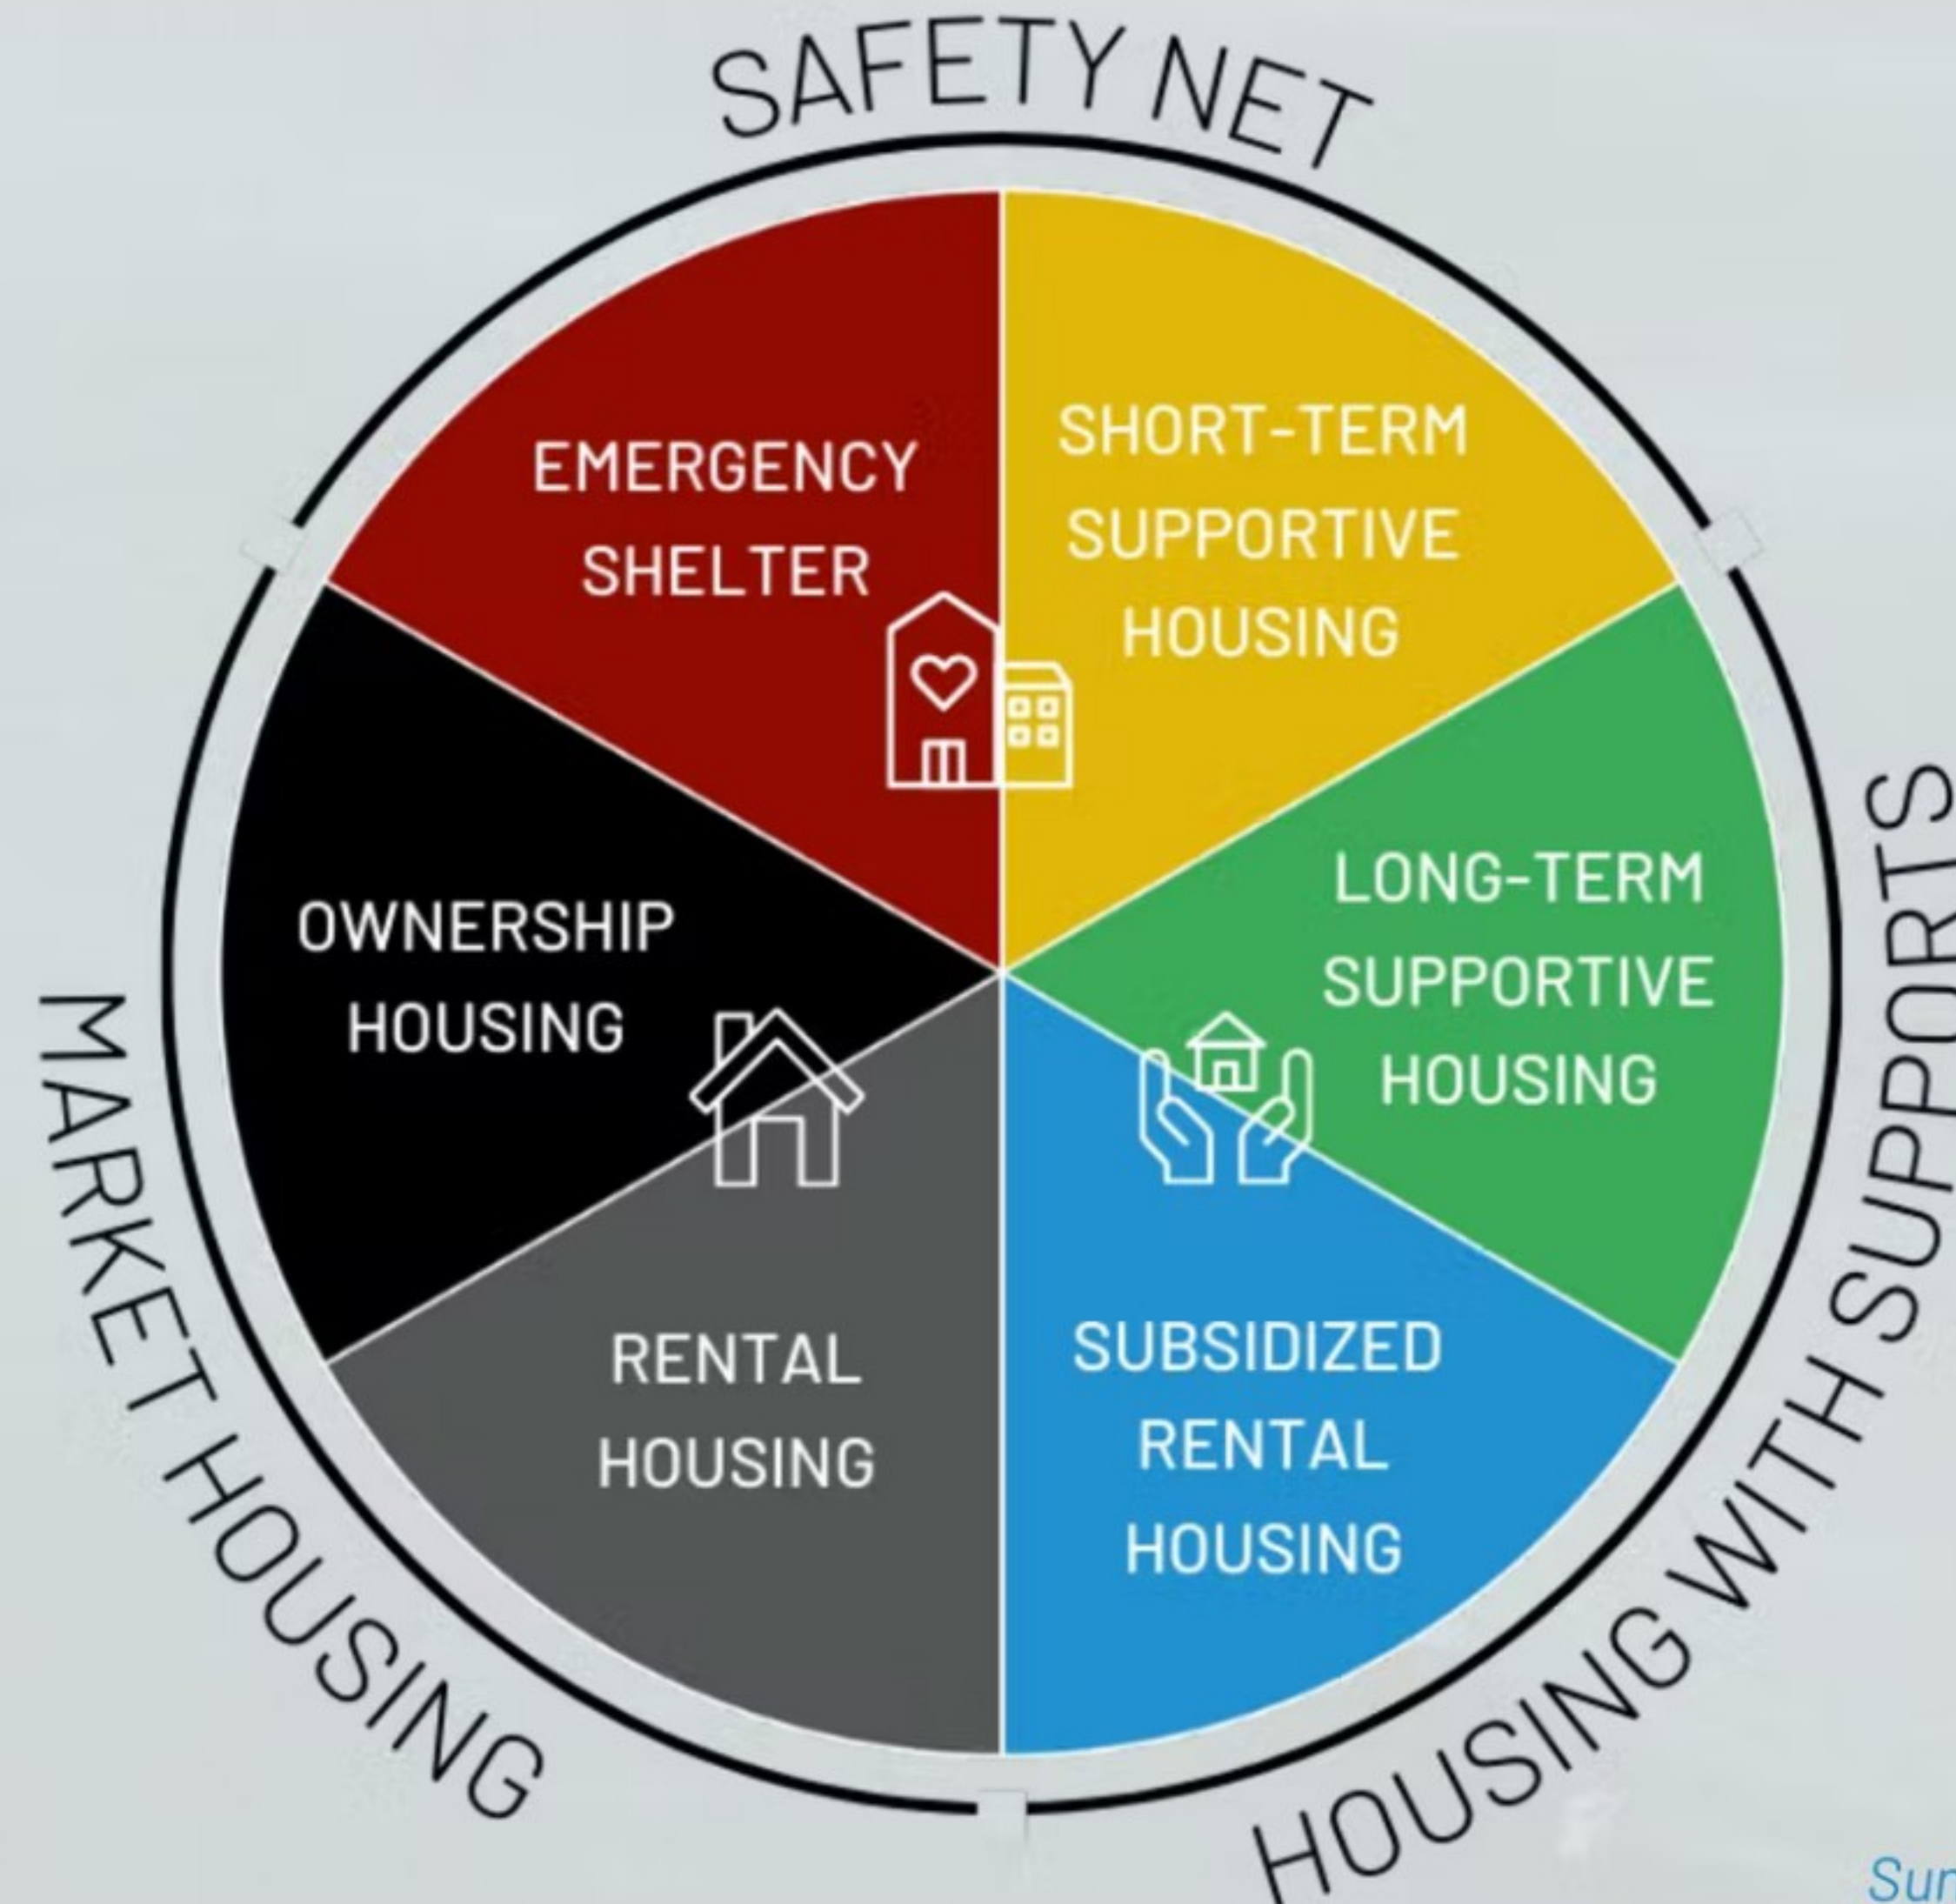

We take care of our own

Address our children even if non Nation parent caring for them

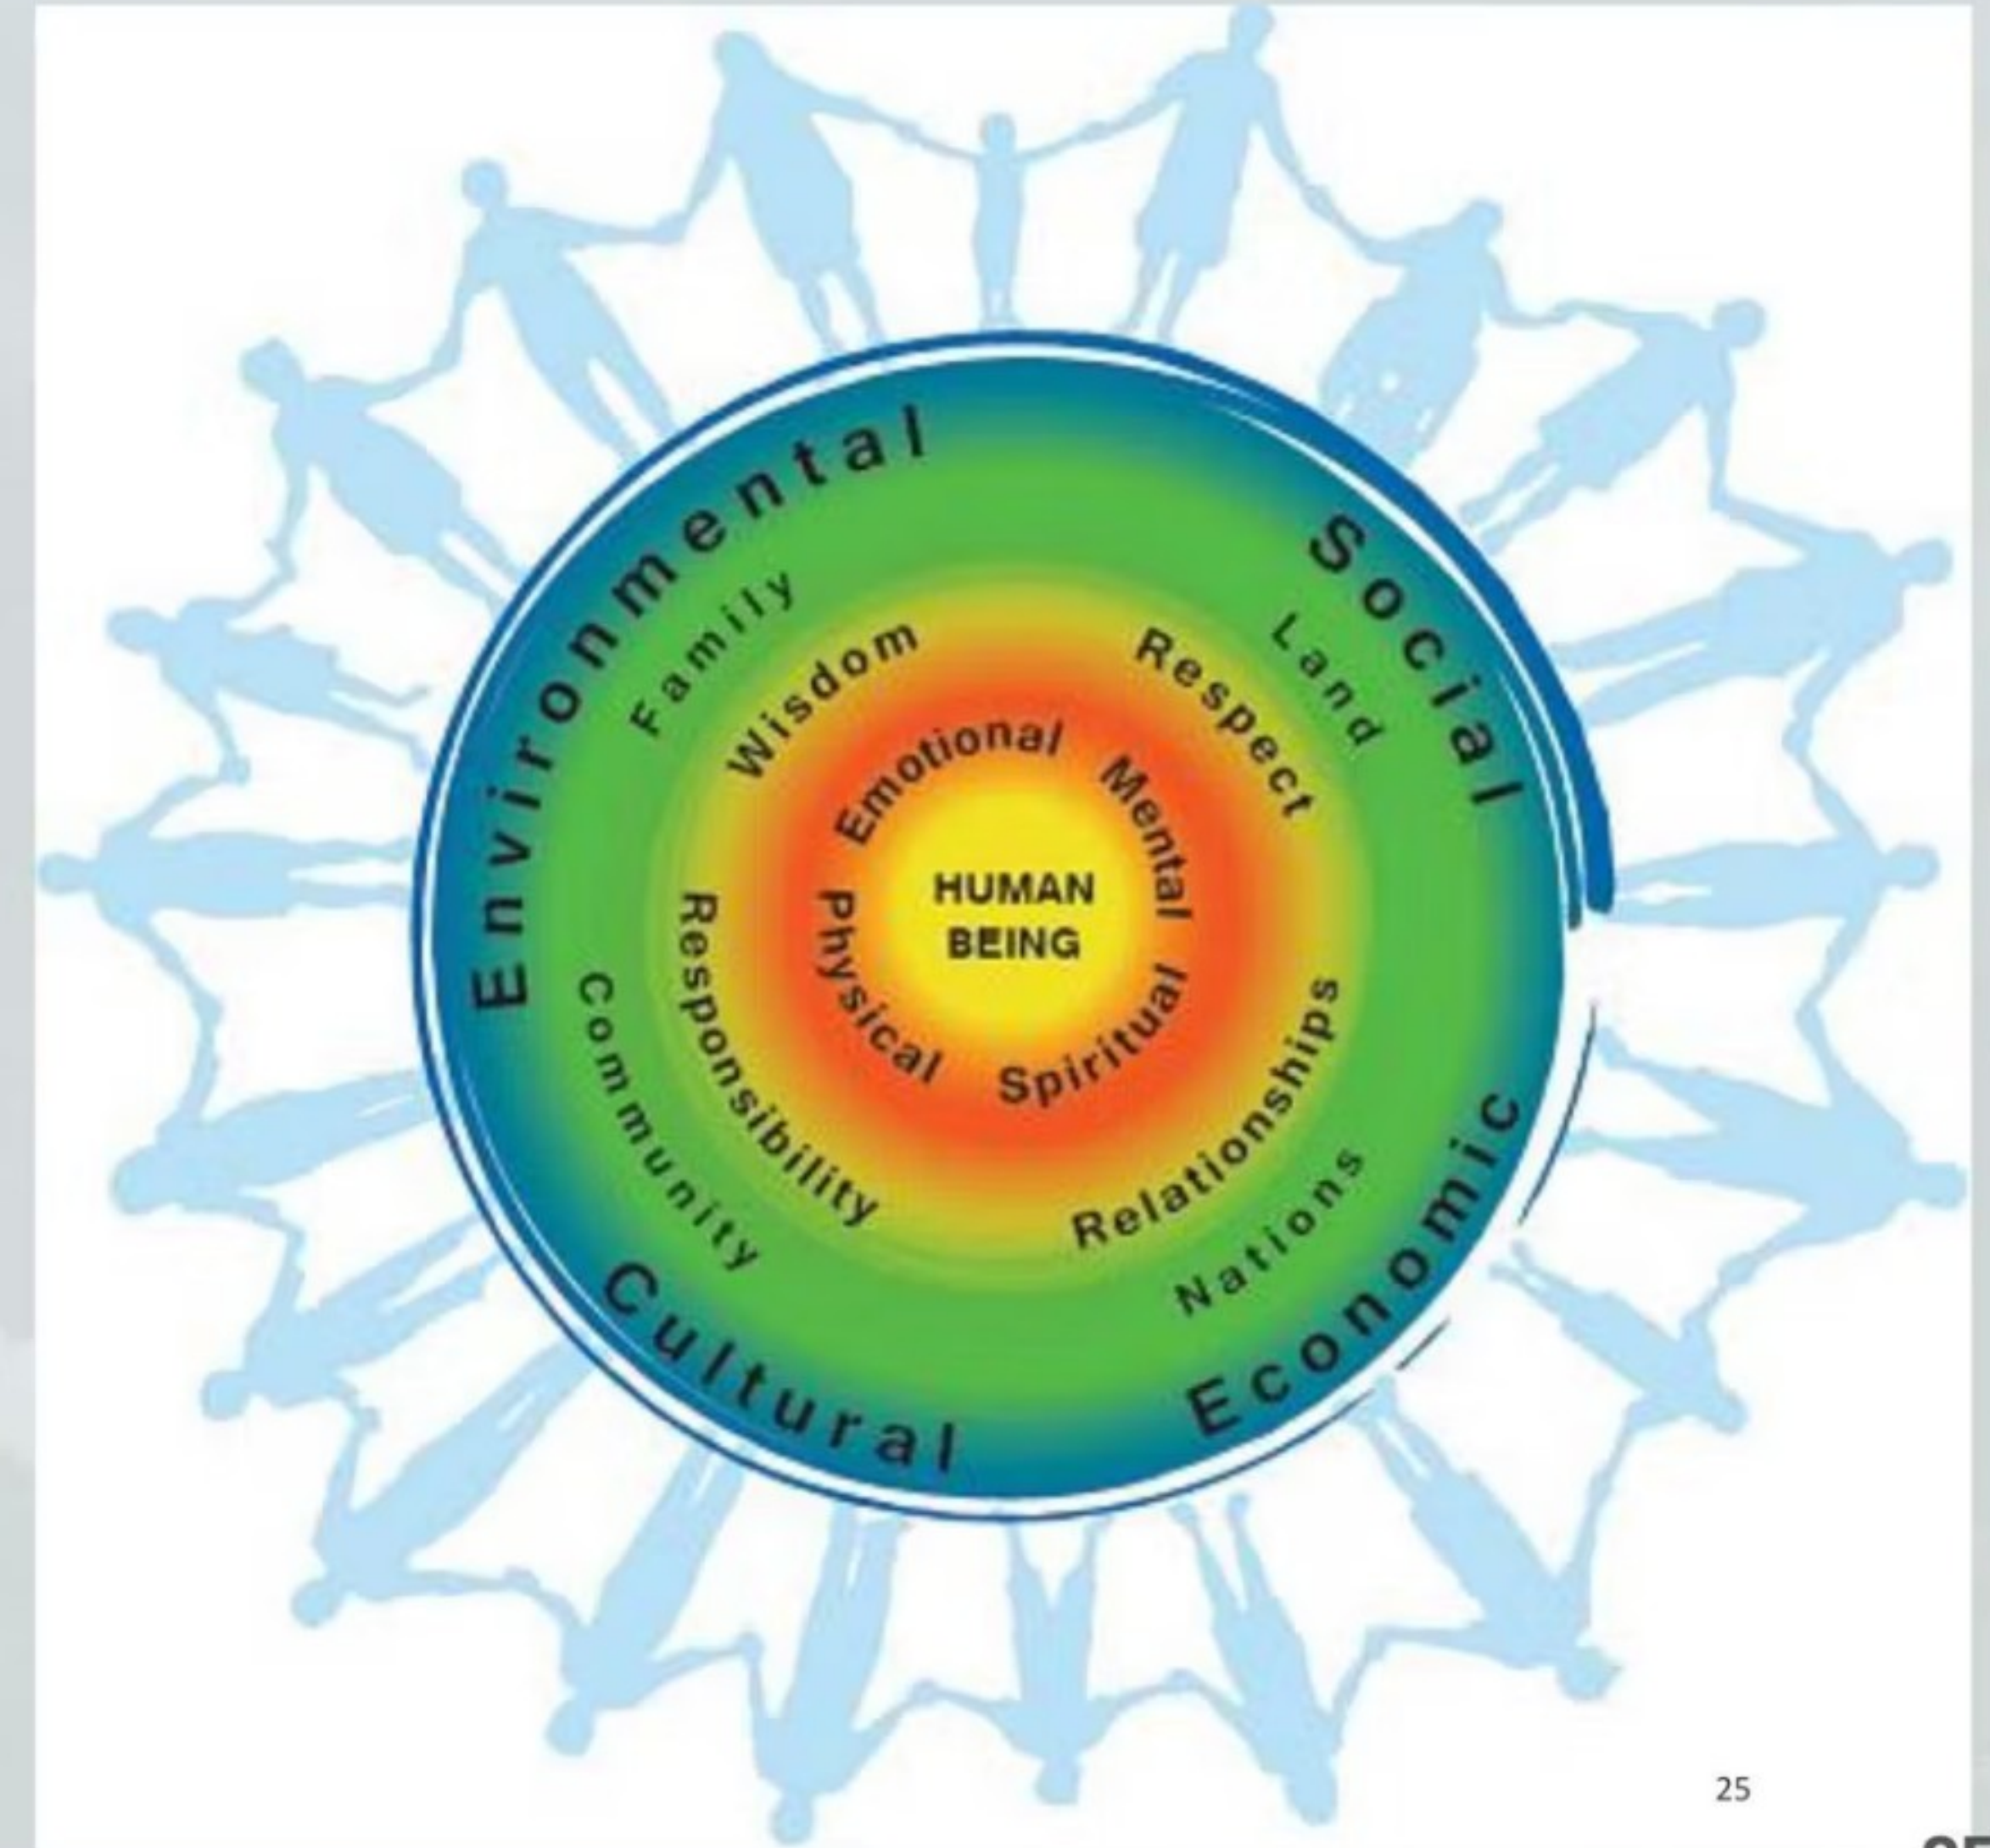

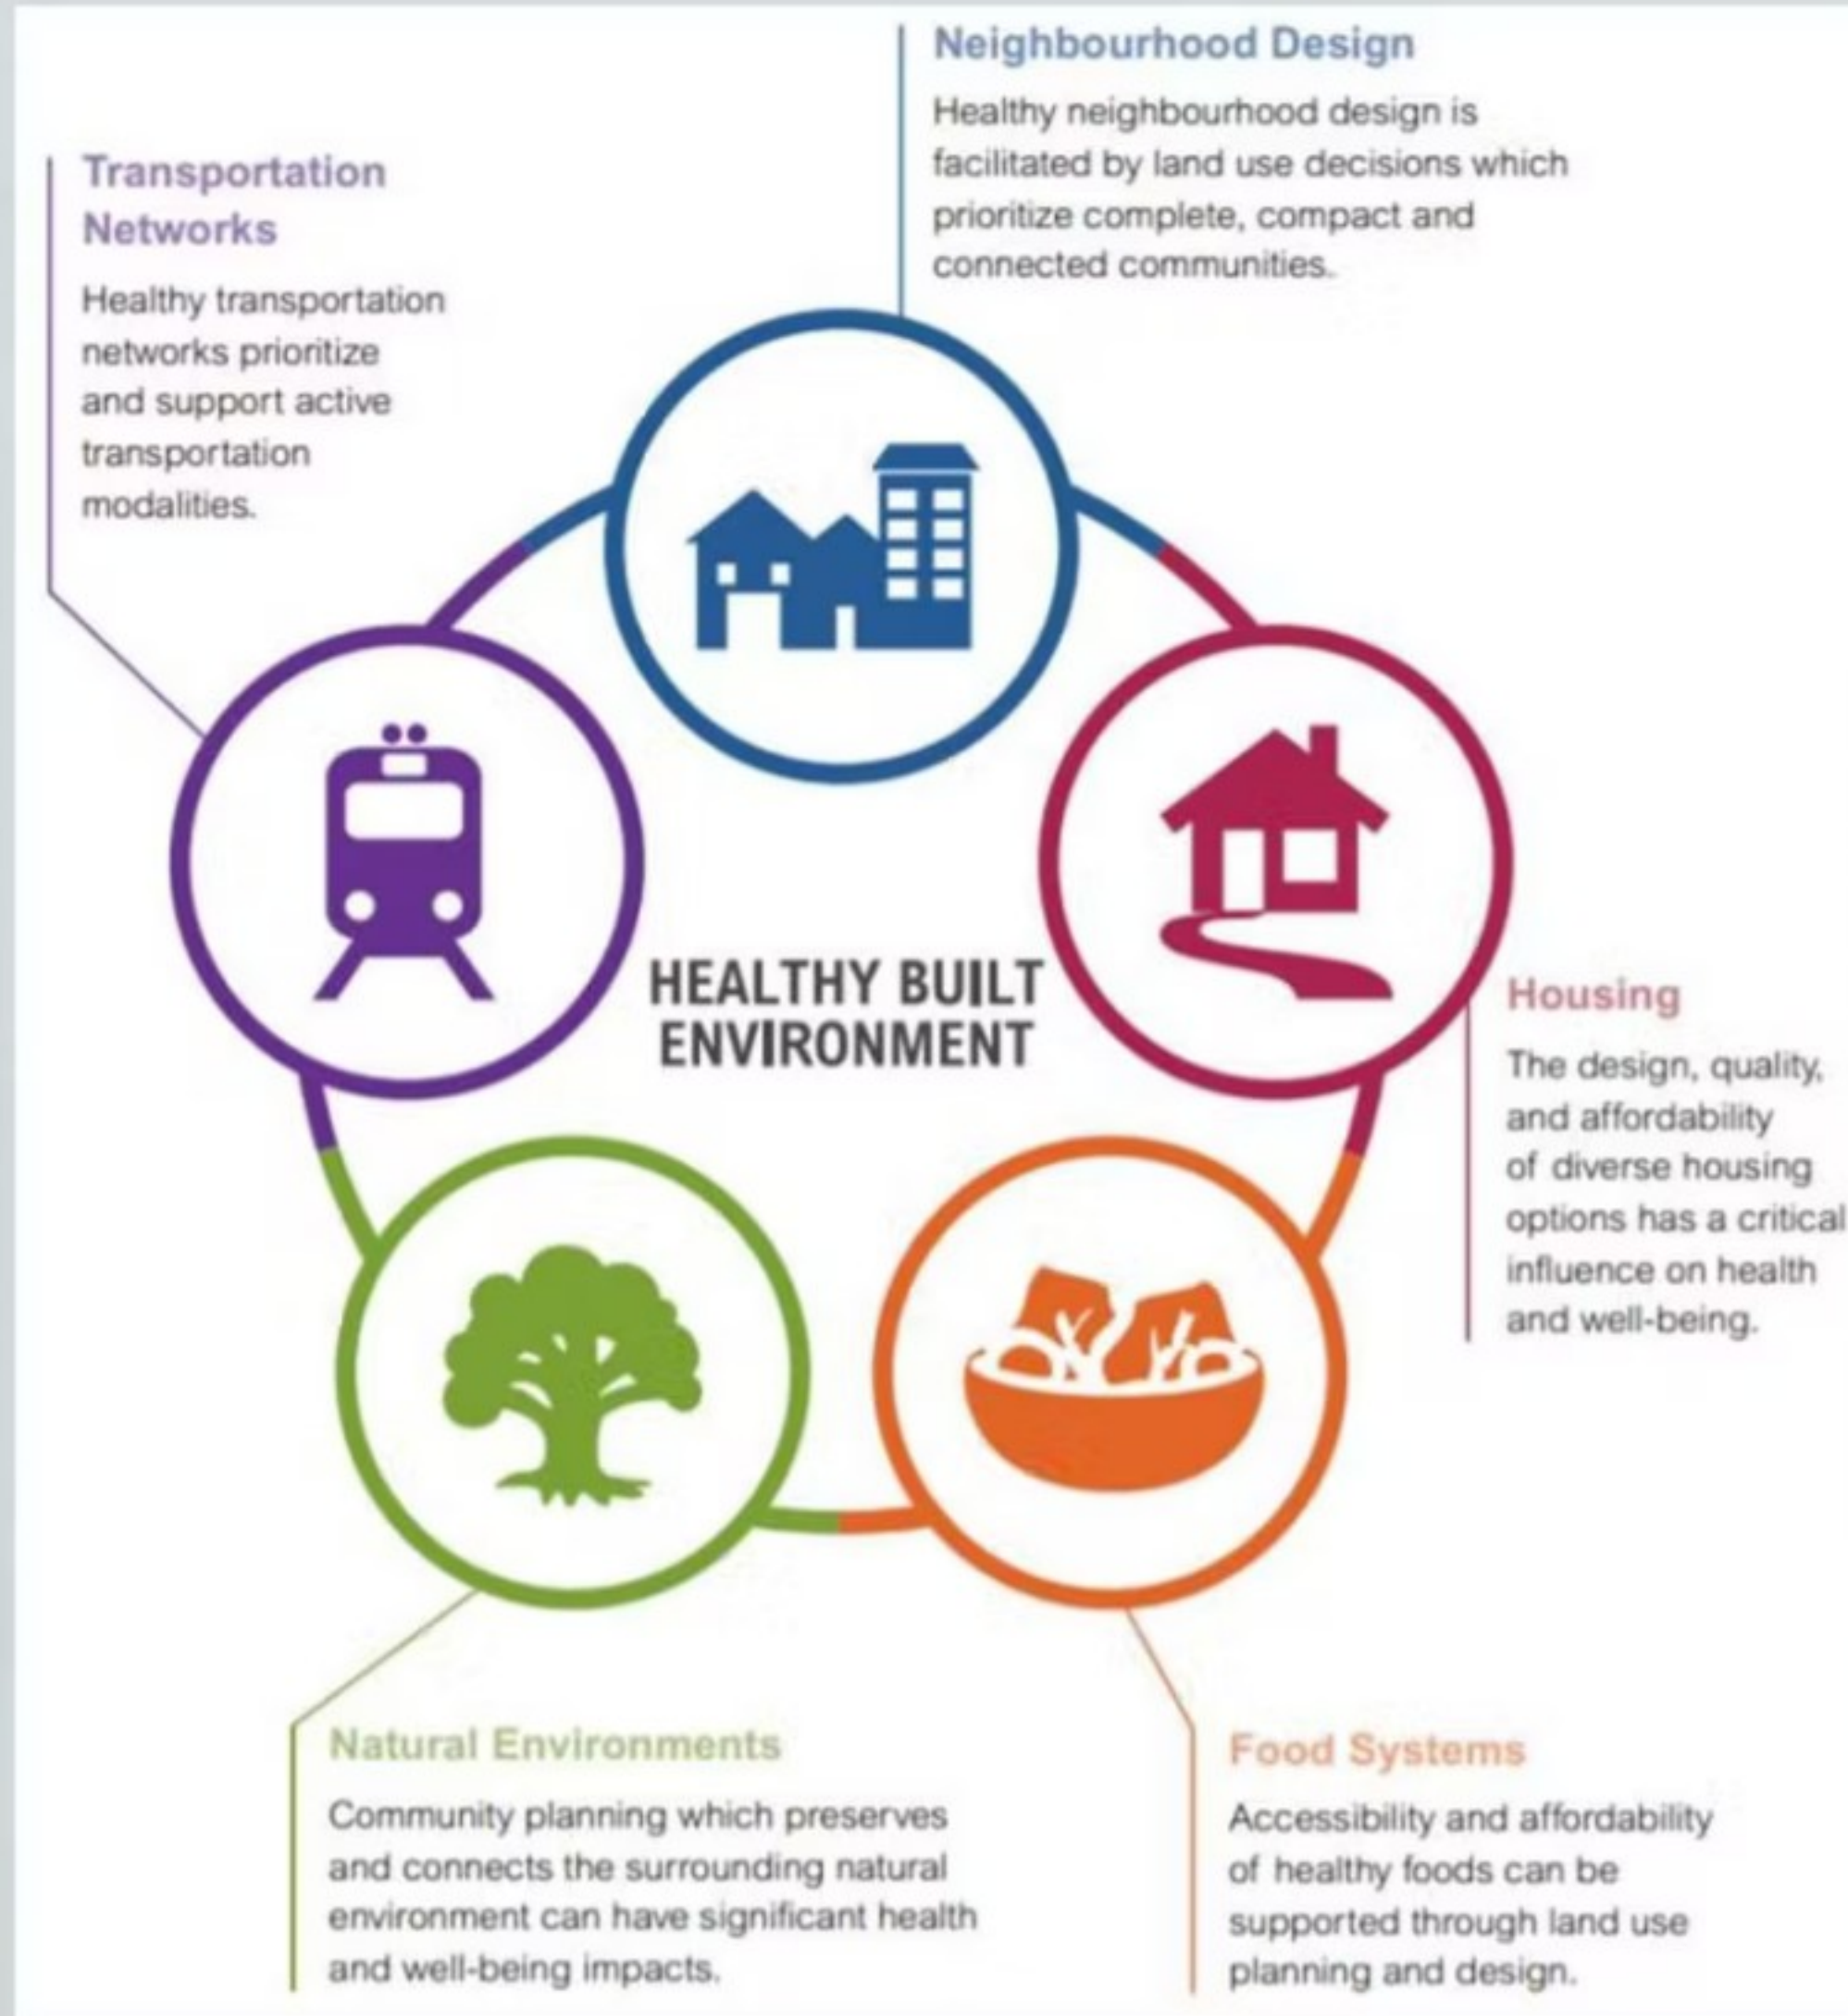

Lummi example provides opportunities for mentoring relationships

Do you have any examples of supportive housing programs or strategies from other communities you like?

Really like Lummi example.

Young adults (aging out of care) paired with Elders.

Lummi....good b/c not segregating groups....supports sense of community and helps with NIMBY

I like the youth aging out facility

We do need some "housing first" housing too. We have homeless who struggle with substances, etc.

The Kamloops model sounds like it would work really well with our nation - ages 16-24 and elders mentoring , with all the different programs to help those youth grow, face their fears, fight their anxieties and depressions or whatever it is Important to include what Chief said re what does this look like , how is itnworking in our community already.. build off strengths and what is already working...i.e.family members helping family members

Look at our community and successes and build off that

The Budzey - Vancouver (women and childrens supporting housing where women own the lease)

Do you have any examples of supportive housing programs or strategies from other communities you like?

Lummi example provides opportunities for mentoring relationships so young people could have supportive relationships with people that are not just service providers

Life skills, leave nobody behind.

A range of options that meet real needs

Homelessness outreach worker is needed!

Purpose-built housing in community

Some services could be mobile supports provided in existing homes

Pair elders and young adults

Develop and plan new housing as a relational "community" not just land/houses. Master plans with cultural/community focus. Healthy built environment.

Where we want to be

Mental health diseases

Life skill building

Heathy parenting programs

Elders and youth working together as michelle said earlier

Mixed housing, for youth aging out and elders.

What should supportive housing look like for shíshálh Nation?

Anxiety and depression

Establish a mandate that enables growth and information that the Nation is working on

Alot of resources and staff retained to address the diversity of needs.

Programs - parenting, life skills, budgeting, how to be a good neighbour, housekeeping

Holistic wraparound supports

Access to cultural supports

What does a healthy community look like.
.thinking big....

Culturally safe and appropriate

Transitional plan

What should supportive housing look like for shíshálh Nation?

Having a celebratory atmosphere and celebrate people

Budgeting and managing your own finances, learning how to save money

Indigenous staff!!

Healthy built environments for people. Build communities not just houses.

Culturally based

Low barrier, flexible

Welcoming. Inclusive

Cultural spaces

Collective responsibility for shíshálh children elders and others in need.

What should supportive housing look like for shíshálh Nation?

For students - some of our kids have learning disabilities so having a space for educational purposes with tutors etc

Housing Supports

Are there other supports you think are important to shíshálh Nation?

Food security

Shared meals and celebrations

Meals on Wheels, Food Security, Healthy Living

Green space and play space, good access

Cultural activities

Community garden

Trails

Land based activities-culture, recreation etc

Dedicated indoor space

Are there other supports you think are important to shíshálh Nation?

Outdoor, covered, gathering spaces

Indoor space to provide programs...cultural etc.

Cultural spaces

Outdoor fym equipment

Safety and privacy

Healthy boundary setting

New lands = will need transportation

Near services, public amenities and transportation

Educational supports - space for students w learning disabilities

Are there other supports you think are important to shíshálh Nation?

Tutors

Support for people with disabilities and/or cognitive delays

We are at a premium for service space....

Trauma informed, awareness of residential school legacy and healing needs

Youth 16-24....services/programs close to home.

Caring for children, youth elders who lack family support

Mutual support...family taking care of each other...not everyone has this so there is a collective responsibility

Safety and security....spaces

Using our people i.e Elders to do talks...more welcomed and gives Elders purpose

Are there other supports you think are important to shíshálh Nation?

Extended families , taking care of one another

Bring youth in re work exlerience or volunteer hours....opportunity for collaboration....in the supportive housing model...

Good quality of life!

Are there different considerations for supports on Nation Land and off Nation Land?

Some people feel safer on nation land

Typically supportive housing will be on Nariion Lands.

Off BL need access to cultural and community events. Knowledge of programs

Should consider those off Nation Lands...once they see the focus more people will want to come home..will increase desire...reunitification

What is the long term goal of the Nation? To provide enough housing so people can move home perhaps?

Trauma and history - lot of parents decided they wnated to move away...children of these people = looking to move back.

Young asults aging out of care wanting to come back but no where to go.....

Providing safe housing to shishalh children to live in community near family and cultural support. So kids aren't moving away for care

Need more housing for people living off of nation lands which would reduce the price of rent/mortgage.

Are there different considerations for supports on Nation Land and off Nation Land?

The residential school in Sechelt left a difficult legacy. Trying to heal and find better ways of being.

Every child matters

Lines that gov't drew....caught up in numbers...Im from Sechelt....blood vs. Not....moving away from this to more inclusive definition
